Oil Mill Gazetteer

Oil Mill Gazetteer, a publication of the International Oil Mill Superintendents Association (IOMSA) with subscribers worldwide, has been around since 1894—one of the longest-lasting publications you will find in any field!

The Gazetteer continues to be a great source of information for the world’s oilseed processors, and in particular, those with the superintendent’s area of responsibility. Regular content includes oilseed news pertinent to the worldwide processing industry, company and personnel news, industry meetings, and feature articles covering a broad variety of topics, including plant and equipment maintenance, safety, environmental concerns, government regulations, and crop projections.

The Gazetteer is also a great place to list classified advertising, such as job openings, because of its readership by those directly involved in the industry.
